

SEASONS OF SERVICE - ALL LEVELS

GSCSNJ PATCH PROGRAM

Girls need to participate in community service projects over 1 full year according to the guidelines listed in order to earn this patch!

A Note to Leaders and Guardians

This patch program is not a difficult one but will take a full year to earn. Girls will work their way through every season (Spring, Summer, Autumn, Winter) to receive their Seasons of Service patch.

Girl Scout troops or individuals can earn this patch by participating in projects or activities that provide service to other Girl Scouts, a group or individual in the community, or another organization.

Service Project Suggestions

Create or participate in a drive to donate food, toys, books, hygiene products, etc.

Work with your local library, volunteering to organize library books.

Hold a Recycling contest in your neighborhood to encourage people to recycle.

Plan a troop activity to help shovel snow for people in your neighborhood.

Plan a trip (with permission to a hospital ward or nursing home to visit with the inhabitants.

Project Guidelines

Girls (with guidance from their leaders or caregivers) should decide what service projects they will be doing to earn the patch.

Service projects should be age-appropriate and are at the discretion of the adults in charge to approve.

Service Projects must be conducted within a Girl Scout Level (ie, start as a junior and finish the year of projects as a junior) as service projects are not transferrable between Girl Scout levels.

As girls bridge to higher levels they will be expected to complete more service projects per season, but projects do not have to be difficult; often times simple ones have the most impact.
