

TEAM TACTICS - JUNIOR LEVEL

GSCSNJ PATCH PROGRAM

Purpose: Teamwork is all around us — in our families, schools, sports, and Girl Scout troops! Great teams communicate, compromise, include others, and work toward a shared goal. These activities help you learn how to be a kind, cooperative, and effective teammate.

To earn this Patch, complete 5 activities, including the starred activity that is required.

Teams in Life

Think about all the teams you belong to. Compare them with a friend's list and talk about how teamwork helps each group succeed.

Learn about diversity and inclusion through games or activities that help you understand each other better. Try Musical Cultures or have a cultural sharing day where each person brings or tells something from their background.

Practice communicating clearly by playing a silent teamwork game (like Human Knot). Then replay it using words — which worked better? Discuss how good communication helps a team succeed.

Practice compromising by dividing snacks or supplies evenly with your group. How did you make sure everyone was happy with the outcome?

Perform short skits about teamwork challenges — like someone refusing to cooperate or excluding others. Talk about how it felt and how you could respond in real life.

Interview someone on a sports team, in your school, or in your community about what makes their team work well. What did you learn about leadership, cooperation, and respect?
